AT LAST WEEK'S MEETING...

There were two dozen people at last week's meeting. Joe Lunardon was the Ambuc of the Day and gave us some personal background. Joe is the owner of SW Business Systems, which can provide any sort of promotional printed material. He is married to Charlotte and has been in Ambucs for many years. Over the past many years, Joe has served as treasurer for Caprock Ambucs and will be stepping down from that roll at the end of the Ambucs year. Joe will continue to be a vital part of our club as we continue to grow and fulfill our mission.

After covering old and new business, the club discussed the upcoming 51st Annual FiberMax Caprock Classic. Bobby Drum covered several topics ranging from hotels to brackets. The deadline for ad sales is quickly approaching and the club is preparing for another successful tournament. The tournament allows our club to donate time, money and therapeutic equipment to help create mobility and independence for people with disabilities.

Last Friday, several costumed club members and spouses enjoyed great entertainment from the Compton Jazz Quartet. After eating and listening to music, the partiers played Bunko and received prizes. Thanks go to Gary Light for organizing the event and all involved.

Vegas Night at Wind Power Center hosted by Downtown Ambucs. It will be 6:30-11:00 and will be $20 a person. All proceeds will go towards purchasing AmTrykes. There will be a Hold'em tournament, as well as food and a cash bar. Many prizes to be awarded!
