AT LAST WEEK'S MEETING... We had a large crowd with Jack Bush visiting. The meeting was run by our VP-For-Life, Missy "I love Mansfield" Hopson. Our AMBUC of the Day was Brett Coons. He is a relatively new member and he is originally from Houston. Brett graduated from Texas Tech University with an accounting degree and works at Mason Warner PC. Leslye Molamphy gave updates on Kids Christmas. Josh informed everyone that the club sold $24K in advertising for the program. He mentioned that the ribbon cutting is set for the 27th at 11:00 and Josh would also like to be called David Shires Jr II. Our AMBUC of the Day (Brett) picked names out of a hat and picked Leslye Monopoly to win the iPad, Karen to win a gift certificate and a signed basketball, Charlie to win a gift certificate and Barney to win a signed basketball. The meeting ended with rapping by several white people without Sir Martin-EZ to lead them.

The Board approved a donation request and a scholarship request!

On the 27th at 11, we will have the ribbon-cutting at Monterey with the Chamber and local news and Chick-Fil-A will feed us!

Thursday, come help me build AmTrykes for the most Grande Basketball tournament. Head to setting sun (West) on 82nd street and turn to Mexico (Left/South) on Venita. It will run into BoBo Storage at 87th street. We start when La Migra goes to bed (6 PM).

There is no consensus on the boundaries of the Pacific Northwest, but the borders could be defined as the Pacific Ocean and the Rockies with the Northern border in British Columbia and the Southern border in Oregon. It is suspected that Sir Francis Drake was the first Westerner to explore the area in 1579.

Seattle averages about 58 sunny days (30% or less cloud cover) a year and about 37 inches of rain. Seattle averages 155 days of measurable rain a year. Lubbock averages about 160 sunny days and about 19 inches of rain.
